For this purpose a receipt, a letter or other communication purporting to be written by the student or by some other person on his behalf in such terms as would reasonably justify the inference that the notice came to the notice of the student shall be admissible as evidence of that fact.

In such case the student shall be required to appear before the Committee at the hearing and the Committee shall satisfy itself that the facts admitted amount to an offence under paragraph 2 of Statute XXXI.

The Committee shall also receive from the committee secretary a summary list of previous cases in which a finding of guilt was made, showing for each case the year and brief particulars of the offence; the curriculum and year of study of the student concerned; and the penalty imposed.

- (b) In determining the penalty to be imposed the Committee may take into account any record of any previous misconduct by the student which has been adjudicated upon by the Committee.
